WHERE DO THE CHILDREN PLAY?

Mr. Football, Rich Korem, proved throughout the season that wearing No. 13 can be lucky after all.

On the sidelines Coach Quinn gives R. Korem strategy for the up-coming play.

Hammond Tech players find themselves underneath on this play and also in the final score as Gavitt won 31-17.

Faced with a possible collision, halfback Bob Biancardi races around end, in an attempt to gain a few yards.

Eyeing what's ahead, Mike Winarski and Dave Ozechowicz stand in contemplation.

Varsity evens record, scores exciting upset, shows off leading seniors

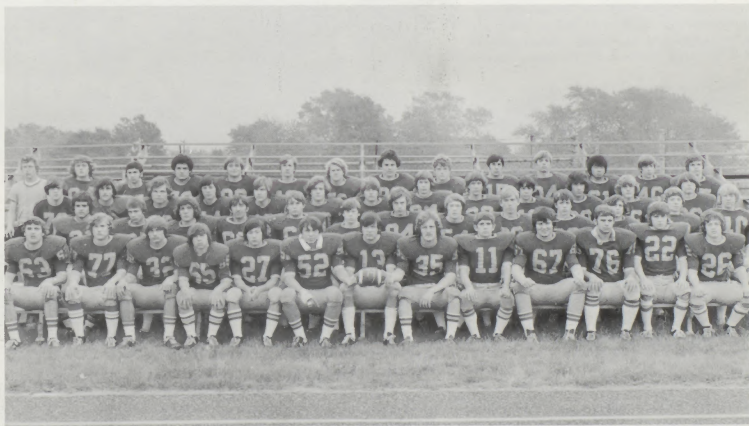

Bringing its season record to an even five wins and five losses, the varsity football players improved as a team throughout the '74 season.

October 18 was the highlight of the season, when the Gridiron Glads brought a happy Homecoming to their home stadium crowd, who watched Gavit eliminate Noll from the sectional play-offs. Gavit drowned the championship hopes of the BNI Warriors (rated second in the area) in a cold, drizzling rain by defeating them 26-14. Senior end

Rich Korem was superlative as he intercepted two passes, had six offensive receptions, and scored 14 points. THE TIMES recognized Gavit's surprisingly good play by naming Korem "Offensive Player of the Week" and John Quinn, "Coach of the Week."

Gavit faced difficulties as an inexperienced team, but leadership from outstanding seniors helped the team develop. Mike Callahan was extremely dedicated to the team, receiving an honorable mention to the all-state team for his fine defensive play. Rich Korem earned an honorable mention to the all-state offensive team, and he and Perry Ferrini were named to the first-string all-conference squad. Jack Tatusko, Jeff Ossanna, Kurt Werth, Maurice Klefeker, Chris Zacony, Terry Redlarczyk, Greg Taylor, Bob Russell, Tim Towasnicki, Nick McDaniel, Bob McCarty, Dave Orzechowicz, and injured Randy Bond were also big assets to the team as senior players.

Reserve team is reservoir for talent

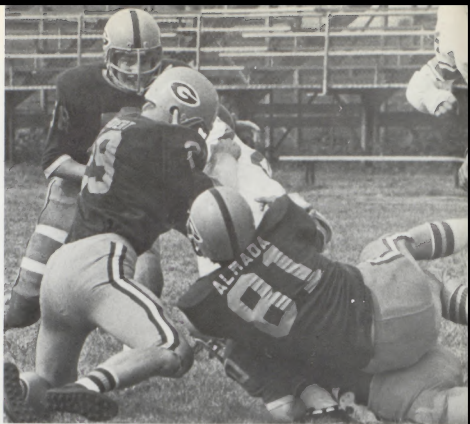

Putting varsity strategies into practice, the reserve football team's underclassmen earned a respectable season record of seven wins and three losses.

The reserve team consisted of two complete units of juniors and sophomores, each containing offensive and defensive squads. Gavit was able to retain more sophomores than any other school because of the high-caliber assistance of Mr. Russell Radtke, a graduate P.E. student from Purdue. Mr. Radtke took charge of the tenth-graders, who gained experience and guidance on the field.

The reserve offense, patterned after the varsity's plays, ran the triple-option well and passed occasionally to compile 150 points in ten games. Using the 52 Monster defense, Gavit held their opponents to 83 points for the season.

Head reserve coach Paul Brush was pleased with the performance of the 29 players who suited up each Saturday to play.

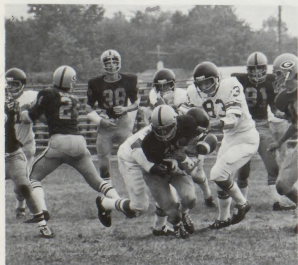

Next year's ranks of reserve players moving up to varsity promise to make 75-76 an exciting season.

John Almada, Tim Kolbert, and Rex Thompson get down on an aggressive Morton Governor.

Proving he's a tough one to handle, Ralph Canale carries two Morton Gov's for a few extra yards.

Frustrated by our opponents, Tom Moore loses control, while his offensive teammates move to recover the ball.

Stretching for a touchdown, B-Team Quarterback Tim Puchley scores the winning points. Gavit won 8-6.

feature flawless first-place football Fearsome freshmen

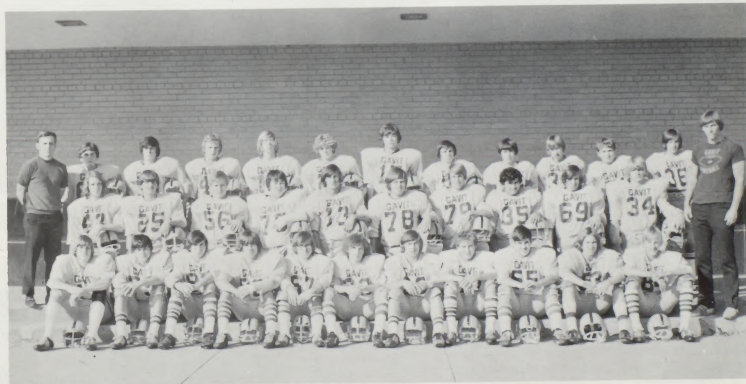

Around right end sprints halfback Tim Cunningham to earn a first down against city rival Morton.

The fearsome freshman football team, featuring a flashy offense and a formidable defense, finished with a first-place 8-1 record.

The success of Gavit's frosh was due to their strength at every position, having virtually no weak spots in their squads. The 78'ers outscored their opponents 160-18, the result of a potent offensive attack which balanced penetrative passing and running. The defense was also superb, shutting out seven of Gavit's nine opponents.

However, the most outstanding quality exhibited by the freshmen was their hardworking dedication to their team. Willing to do all they could to be the best, Gavit's freshmen started double two-hour practices on August 12, nearly three weeks before most other ninth-grade teams met together, and they continued to practice for four hours six days a week during the hot, trying summer. Coaches Bud Ballou and Randy Kuechenberg never had any discipline problems, either, because the players would start practice on their own and would keep the group together by solving problems that arose by themselves. Their two managers, Marty Wielgos and Paul Hall, were great assets to the efficiency of the team.

GAA girls' teams liberate themselves in the air, on the ground

Girls Athletic Association added two extra-mural sports (swimming and tennis) and three intramural activities (handball, softball, and tennis) to its roster of sporting opportunities. Girls also participated in field hockey, football, volleyball, basketball, gymnastics, badminton, table tennis, and bowling.

Flag football resembled tackle football in an unusually rough Powder Puff football game on October 1. The sophomores beat the freshmen on the gridiron 14-0, and the seniors ground to a 6-6 tie with the juniors.

GAA's third annual Powder Puff basketball game brought in needed revenue by drawing nearly 150 spectators on January 3. Seniority superiority prevailed as the sophomores outscored the freshmen 14-8, and the seniors outplayed the Gavitt '76'ers 13-8. Two combined — class teams of 17 players each concluded the evening with 16 minutes of exciting, fast-breaking play, as the white shirts edged by the blue shirts 18-16.

GAA sponsored a rugby match between two semi-professional teams (Gary and Amoco) at Gavitt's Witham Stadium on Saturday, November 9. Proceeds were used to help buy new uniforms and equipment.

In December and January, about 50 girls competed in the badminton and table tennis tournaments. Doubles and singles winners in each contest received ribbons at the GAA banquet in the spring.

Teammates Jeri Hoffman and Holly Miller come to assist fullback Pam Dorsey against their opponents.

Forward Jeri Hoffman guards the ball from her East Gary opponents.

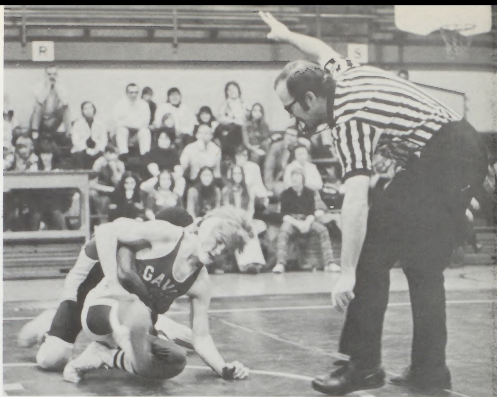

For the second consecutive year, Gavitt's tremendous field hockey team coached by Miss Margaret Kelly was undefeated. Practice began late August the 15th, when the girls prepared to take on East Gary on September 7 and Portage and Chesterton in a double-header on September 14th. The lady Glads had won a 2-0-1 record, beating East Gary 3-1, Portage 2-1, and tying Chesterton 2-2. A game scheduled for September 10th was rescheduled for the 17th due to rainy weather and Gavitt won their last game with a score of 3-2 against River Forest.

Seniors on the team included Jeri Hoffman, Karen Solon, and outstanding offensive player Kim Thomas. Junior Wendy Carle was named outstanding defensive player.

Field hockey is a very rigorous sport which requires strength and endurance, to get quick energy during the half-times the team consumed a grand total of over six dozen oranges!!

The Gavit Grapplers had a very successful season while winning 10 out of 12 of their seasonal meets. Coach Ballou is very pleased and satisfied with the outcome. Despite the lack of attendance at the meets, Coach Ballou described the boys as "high spirited and ready to win."

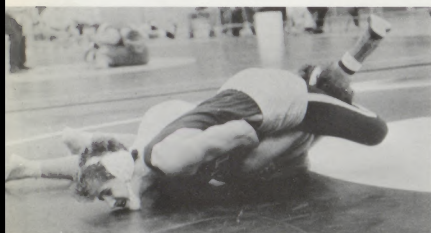

Gavit had five wrestlers that went all the way to regionals. First place sectional winners were Mike Callahan, and Carlos Tite. Second place winners were Bob Cofer, Evan Tite, and 98 pounder Scott Opasik.

In the regional meet three of our five grapplers took standing. The only freshman, Scott Opasik took a second. Mike Callahan took a third and Carlos Tite took a fourth.

Coach Ballou attributed the success of the team to the hard work and improvement of the wrestlers.

B-TEAM WRESTLERS — FIRST ROW FROM LEFT: B. Fatherlee, P. Gorney, G. Novak, T. Thegze, S. Plewecki, V. Dunlap. SECOND ROW: Coach Ben Life, J. Fullgraf, M. Van Buskirk, H.J. Freels, A. Gavrilos, R. Stevens, L. Jones, G. Beverly, F. Gavrilos.

B-team pins hold of a winning season

Grin dominates the face of Glen Beverly following the pin of a Morton grappler.

Gavit's 11 B-team wrestlers had a good season of six wins and two losses, in spite of their need to forfeit two out of 13 weight classes in each meet. They earned second place in the sectional tournament, as they were coached by Mr. Ben Life.

Winning all but one of his 105 pound matches, freshman Mike Van Buskirk was an outstanding B-team wrestler.

Exemplifying the spirit of true determination, Chris Wantroba exerts an effort beyond a spectator's comprehension.

1974 CC schedule proves to be 'hairy' for GHS Harriers

Cross country ended an exasperating season ranking seventh in the conference with a record of one win and nine losses. Gavit's single win came against Whiting, when the Glads underscoring the Oilers 15-40.

Nine out of fifteen dedicated runners endured the season, as they averaged running about eight miles a day for three months. In one meet three Glads — Chris Wantroba, Steve Bechtel, and Dan Falk — were able to complete the 2 1/2-mile course under the 14-minute mark, an outstanding accomplishment for Gavit runners.

Senior Steve Bechtel's first year in cross country was very rewarding, as he was named "most valuable player." Co-captains Chris Wantroba and Bob Headrick, both three year veterans, gave experienced leadership to the team.

Exerting strength, Bob Headrick tudes on.

Miss Margaret Kelly coached the 1974 varsity volleyball team to a 24-2 overall record and their second regionals championship in two years to give them a chance for the state championship.

During the regular season, Gavit lost only to Concord. The Lady Glads were undefeated in the Hammond sectional and Valparaiso regional tournaments to advance them to the third State Girls Volleyball Tournament at Indianapolis Ben Davis on November 23. Nearly repeating the performance of their 1972 volleyball team, Gavit's only other team to compete down state, the Glads lost to a South Bend team (Riley) in the first round of play.

Gavit's B-team, who earned a 13-7 record, will supply many valuable players for next year's varsity.

Craig Lucht displays the powerful backhand which helped him earn an 8-0 record.

Get into the swing of things.

Making plenty of racket while netting an even record of 5 wins and 5 losses, Gavit's 1974 tennis team then bounced up to take third place in the Lake Shore Conference Tournament.

The team won victories over Whiting and Tech with a score of 5-0 for both matches. Hammond High and East Chicago Washington gave the Glads hard competition to beat the Glads 3-2 in both matches.

Craig Lucht, John Bachmann, Mark Bearby and Susan Pomplin were important seniors on the team. For his undefeated play during the season, Craig Lucht received individual honors.

Battling the Clark Pioneers, Ron Bonnell drives the lane.

The battle of the back boards

Starting off the year with three straight wins, Gavit's 74-75 varsity basketball team ended their season with a score of eight wins and 12 losses. After beginning the year ranked third in the area (behind Hammond High and Morton), the nine talented players high hopes were let down when they lost several close games to put them out of contention for the Lake Shore Conference title.

There were some bright spots for the team, however. Steller center Tim Bajusz was considered one of the three top players in the Calumet Region as he led the team in rebounds and scoring, averaging over 20 points per game. Forwards Jim Michels and Mark Cooley contributed needed points for many victories. Guards Rich Korem and Ron Bonnell were known for their quickness and penetrating passes. Other leading players were Mike Geary, who had improved greatly over last year, and Randy Rapchak, an important forward this year.

Trying not to over extend themselves, Jim Michels and Tim Bajusz struggle for the ball.

Cagemen compete courageously

Winning its first reserve city tournament championship in Gavit's history, the 1974-75 basketball B-team displayed outstanding teamwork. Gavit brought excitement to the Hammond Holiday Tournament by taking both their games into overtime. On December 27 Gavit defeated Hammond High School 29-27, and on the following night they came back to win the championship game against Hammond Tech 33-31.

Gavit's B-team season ended with a record of 10 wins and 10 losses — six of which were within four points. Leading scorers for the season were Steve Owens, Marvin Snorton, and Kevin Knutson, who was also the leading rebounder. Their outstanding defensive man was Chuck Webster.

Freshman B-Team standout, Steve Hojnacki lays up two points with Kevin Knutson looking on.

Cagers crush competitors

Winning 15 games and losing six, the 1974-75 freshman basketball team was the best frosh team in Gavitt's history.

Returning for his second year, Coach Fred Vukas guided his players to victory as they won the Holiday Tournament for the second year in a row. The rookie Glads displayed their talent at the tournament by beating Clark 40-34 and Hammond High 54-31.

The ferocious freshmen put up a tough fight against all their opponents, even in their six losses. They came within two points of victory on two occasions and they were within six points of winning in three other games.

Gavitt's freshmen b-ballers also took second place in the Hammond Invitational Tournament.

Bob Headrick, Dan Falk, and Rich Dorsey take timeout from a hard practice.

Although the 1973-74 boys track team had a record of no wins and 10 losses, they had some outstanding individual accomplishments: senior Jim Nagel ran the two-mile event in nine minutes and 40 seconds; senior Rick Dorsey placed sixth in the Hammond sectionals with a running long jump that was just $\frac{1}{2}$ inch short of fifth place and a chance to compete in regionals; and junior Bob Headrick cut his time in the two-mile run by nearly three minutes. Senior Ed Schoenfelt contributed to the team points with his well-thrown discs.

The talented but small freshman track team showed great promise as developing for future boys reserve and varsity track teams at Gavit.

The girls 1973-74 track and field team ended their season at Indiana's Third State Girls Competition.

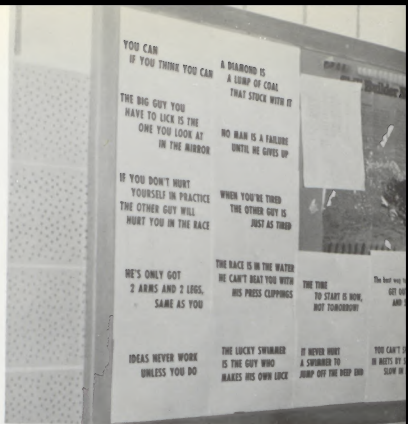

The team finished second in the sectionals, losing only to Highland. Winners were Joyce Klapkowski in the 440-yard dash and the relay team consisting of Sharron Fullgraf, Lori Frye, Monica Mista and Carol Smith in the 880-yard relay. With six girls in the regionals, the mighty Glads finished third in team points. Sharron Fullgraf set a state record of 25.6 seconds in the 220-yard dash and placed second in the 100-yard dash. At the state track meet the 880-yard relay team finished third. Fullgraf also placed sixth in the 100-yard dash and seventh in the 220-yard dash. Manager Pamm Dorsey and alternate Delores Mardis accompanied the team.

At the GAA banquet, Sharron Fullgraf and Joyce Klapkowski received certificates for outstanding track performance.

All school records set in 1973-74 were broken this year. Fantastic junior, John Esgate, set individual records in three events: the 200-yard free style, 200 individual medley, and the 100 backstroke, in which he made the finals for the Sectional Meet. He was also a member of the record-setting 400 free relay, containing John Kapec, Alex Klefeker, and Jim Pawlus. Jim Pawlus, also a junior, set two new individual records in the 50 free and 100 free. Greg Lewis and Alex Klefeker each set individual records, Lewis in the 100 butterfly and Klefeker in the 500 free. Co-captain Bob Russell set a new record in the 100 breast-stroke, and junior John Janiga easily compiled the most points for a Gavit diver.

Coach Ed Troy was proud of the tankmen, who improved greatly this year. The young team lost five valuable seniors: co-captains Bob Russell and Tim Towasnicki, freestylers John Kapec and Maurice Klefeker, and diver Paul Brock.

Soccer squad socks semi-successful spring season

Gavit's 1974 soccer team had an average season with three wins, five losses, and one tie; but they usually gave their opponents a tough match.

Purple and gold bootman doggedly practiced in rain, sleet, and mud from early April until June, playing two matches per week. Kicking off the season with a 5-1 victory over Munster, the Glads looked less impressive the rest of the season. However, three of their five losses were by only one point, with first-place Morton being responsible for Gavit's other two losses, 0-2 and 4-7.

A young team with mostly juniors and a sole senior, Steve Smoot, Gavit's soccer squad featured some outstanding players. Center forward Bob Russell, who scored eight goals, and fullback Mike Callahan, who was relentless on defense, were named to the city's All-Star team by Hammond's six soccer coaches. During the season Ruben Shehigian scored four goals, and Jeff Ossanna scored three.

Bill Mangerson checks the line up for the IHSAA golf sectional.

With an excellent 13-0 league record, the 1974 golf team played consistently to become the champions of the Lake Shore Conference for the third time in four years.

Tim Budreau and Chris Wantroba were the number one and number two golfers in sectionals and helped Gavit place third in the tournament. Chris was named most valuable player on the team with the lowest ninehole season average of 40.1. Tim followed closely behind with a 40.3.

Bill Mangerson helped the Glads qualify for regionals, in which Gavit placed 12th, with his exceptional back nine score of 39. Gary Amick was also an asset to the team, always retaining an average of under 45. Tracy Cooley won the scholastic average award and he usually averaged about a 41.5 on the course.

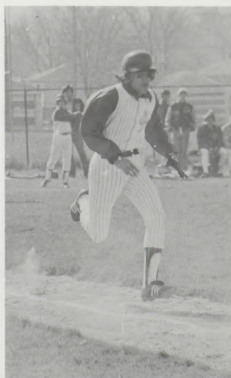

With an overall record of 18-3, the five Gavit golfers had another fine season, coached by Mr. Russell.

Words of wisdom flow freely from the mouth of Coach Paul Brush to his players.

Improving their play as the spring season progressed, Gavit's 1974 baseball squad gained experience and skill while winning 12 games, losing 18, and tying one.

With only four experienced upperclassmen returning from the 1974's conference championship team, several of Gavit's 20 young rookies came through with excellent baseball. For example, surehanded second-baseman Rich Korem fielded 97% of the balls that whizzed his way, and also he pitched three victorious games. Right off the bat Dan Pease smacked the ball well, maintaining the team's highest average of 400. Kevin Knutson gave up the fewest earned runs of Gavit's four pitchers (averaging 2.86 per game), Terry Homcho hurled three winning games, and Mark Cooley was valuable on the mound as well as at bat. The Glad's most improved underclassman was Ron Bonnell, who hit a solid .363 average.

For their outstanding contributions, seniors Bob Graczyk and John Rozgony were selected for the Lake Shore All-Conference team. As the only returning starter from Gavit's 1973 champs, catcher Graczyk batted .369 and drove in 21 runs. Rozgony was the Glads' leading RBI man with 27, and had a .324 batting average.

Cagers crowned conference champs

Guard number 21, Kim Thomas reaches high to secure the ball against Morton's guard Eva Del Toro.

Completing their third undefeated season in four years, the Lady Glads varsity basketball team breezed to a district championship on February 22. All season they averaged 65 points per game, more than any other team in the Northwest section, while they held their opponents to an average 26 points in their 15 contests.

Gavit's closest (58-57) and most cherished victory came against Morton, who had beaten the Glads the year previous 46-45 to give Gavit it's only loss in 51 games since 1971. WMAQ-TV (NBC) news covered the well played game, and coach Margaret Kelly was named "coach of the Week" by the TIMES.

Jeri Hoffman, leading rebounder and scorer on the team, was extremely valuable, as was agile guard Kim Thomas. Susan Pomplin added needed points as a forward, and Sharron Fullgraf and Cindy Graczyk performed well on the court.

Delores Mardis reaches high for a jump ball against her Hammond High opponent.

Gavit's Mary Anne Cataldi uses man-to-man defense in hopes of distracting her Highland opponent.

Taking careful aim, Mary Johnson attempts to sink a free throw for two points.

With a 1974-75 season record of 11 wins and no losses, Gavit's J-V girls basketball team kept its five-year, 46 game winning streak alive. They beat their toughest competitor, formerly undefeated Portage, in their final game of the year by the score of 21-14.

The B-team had little trouble with most of their opponents. While averaging over 30 points per game, they held the other team to less than 20 points in all but three contests. They used their good shooting and tight defense to their advantage, so that nearly all members of the team were able to play in each game.

However, there were several tense moments in their game with Morton, especially when the two teams were tied at 19 with two minutes remaining; but Gavit came through with some quick layups to win 26-19. Portage was no cinch either, but Gavit's underclasswomen played like cool-headed veterans, finally breaking the game open in the third quarter after two quarters of tied-up scoring (4-4 after the first quarter and 10-10 after the second).

Coach Margaret Kelly was very pleased with the performance of her J-V players. Several talented sophomores will be moving up to fill the places of five graduating varsity players, in time to vie for Indiana's first state girls basketball championship in 1976.

EVERYDAY PEOPLE

1. Construction of the seniors' homecoming float was successful due to the dedication and class spirit of Cindy Dittrich, Perry Ferrini, and Ginger Stoffregen, as well as many others.
2. 1974 football Homecoming Court including Cathie Rosinski, Kim Thomas, Judy Latham, Pam Stephens, and Sue Papesh pose with Mr. Football, Rich Korem.
3. Judy Latham smiles radiantly as she begins her reign as 1974 Homecoming Queen.
4. A spirited Glad adds a creative touch to the traditional painting of the Bridge following the football pep rally.
5. Terry Horncho, Debbie Richardson and Jim Adams were among many other seniors who recaptured the era of 1950's during Homecoming week's "Greaser Day."
6. Seniors "sting" the competition by snatching first place in the class float division.
7. Fans find "Stonewood Fox" fascinating.

Dance, creative activities highlight FB Homecoming

Spirit week, October 14-18, started off with little spirit as "Teachers Day" passed by with little notice. But as the week progressed, enthusiasm was built up with "Tag Day", "Traitor Day", and "School Color Day" was dubbed "Greaser Day", and was by far the most outstanding show of spirit participation as seniors went all out to re-capture the look of the "50's". Many of our teachers were reminded of their own school days as students displayed ducktails, bobbie socks, leather jackets, pony-tails, saddle shoes, and long skirts.

The annual pep rally on Thursday brought anxiously waiting spectators for the announcement of the 1974 Homecoming Queen, Judy Latham, escorted by Terry Beck. Entertainment was furnished by the Gavitt Pep Band and Drill Team, while members of the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes performed skits. The Class of 1978 was announced the most spirited class of the week at the Homecoming game on Friday.

This year Gavitt had one of the largest Homecoming parades ever.

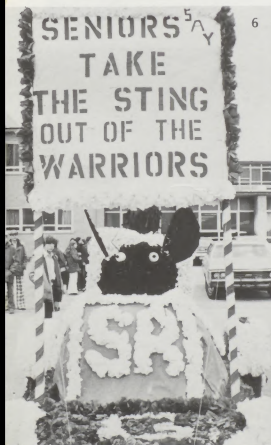

Participant's in the parade were divided into two categories: class and organizations. Winning in class float competition was the Class of 1975 with their theme "Seniors take the sting out of the Warriors," while the club competition was won by the Pep Club.

As the spirited week rolled on so did our football team. Coming out on top, the mighty Glads defeated the Noll Warriors with a 26-14 Homecoming victory.

The weather did not stop the crowd as the people poured in the gates of Gavitt's stadium. Rich Korem's fantastic interceptions, touchdowns, end pass receptions helped him in being named Mr. Football.

Adding to the excitement, the Hammond Times named John Quinn "Coach of the Week" and Rich Korem "Back of the Week."

After the game a dance sponsored by Student Council added to the Homecoming celebrations. Students sat around and talked, while others danced to the great music of Stonewood Fox.

Court, Mr. Basketball honored at Homecoming

Despite a disheartening loss to E.C. Roosevelt (59-60) and some displays of disorderly conduct by two spectators at the game, the evening of February 7 turned out to be an enjoyable 1975 basketball homecoming.

During half-time Gavitt's leading scorer for the season, Tim Bajusz, was awarded the title of Mr. Basketball, while Kim Thomas (accompanied by Mike Callahan) was crowned Homecoming Queen. Her royal court consisted of Sharron Fullgraf (escorted by John Breidenbaugh), Cindy Graczyk (escorted by Mark Peters), Sue Papesch (accompanied by Bob Cofer), and Pam Stephens (escorted by Jack Tatusko).

After the game, nearly 500 students rocked to the music of Quorum until 11 p.m. Pep Club sponsored the successful dance.

1. An anxious crowd awaits the beginning of "Quorum's" exhilarating music.
2. A blissful Kim Thomas hugs her escort Mike Callahan.
3. Tim Bajusz receives a big kiss from LuAnn Fatheree upon being honored as Mr. Basketball.
4. 1975 basketball Homecoming Queen Kim Thomas poses with her companion Mike Callahan.
5. The pounding rhythm of "Quorum" sets Phil Stoffregen and many other Glads on their feet.
6. Tim Bajusz expresses his appreciation after being crowned Mr. Basketball.
7. 1974 basketball Homecoming court included Pam Stephens (accompanied by Jack Tatusko), Cindy Graczyk (escorted by Mark Peters), Sharron Fullgraf (escorted by John Breidenbaugh), Sue Papesh (accompanied by Bob Cofer), and queen Kim Thomas (escorted by Mike Callahan).

1. The Peanuts gang including Linus (Greg Rucinski), Schroeder (Charles Phillips), Pattie (Ladena Felling), Snoopy (Tom Wilson), and Lucy (Anita Charnekar), get involved in the spirit of playing a baseball game.

2. Charlie Brown (Kevin Augustyn) ponders a question included in Lucy's "crabiness" survey.

3. The importance of his relationship with his security blanket is described by Linus.

4. Snoopy, as the World War I flying ace in his Sopwith Camel, makes another attempt to down the cursed Red Baron.

5. Members of the Peanuts sing one of the several songs included in the musical.

6. Snoopy expresses his exuberant delight to his bewildered master about his favorite time of every day ... SUPPERTIME!

7. Excitedly Lucy devises a way in which she can be "Head Queen" although not of royal birth.

"Charlie Brown" captures comedy, culture, creativity

The year's fall play was a one-night presentation of the musical comedy "You're A Good Man, Charlie Brown." It was enthusiastically handled by a cast of six major characters, four understudies, student director Becky Medwetz, countless, cooperative crew members, and Mrs. Marge Macey, Gavit's new drama coach.

On Friday, November 22, the curtain went up at 8:00 p.m., and the large crowd of people was well entertained for ninety minutes thereafter. In the beginning, the play focused upon Charlie Brown and the Peanut gang's criticism of his wishy-washiness and blockheadedness. Throughout the play, however, the other characters accept Charlie Brown for what he is.

Kevin Augustyn, who played Charlie Brown, did a great job of acting the part. He was especially terrific in his hilarious lunch scene. He longed very much to attract the attention of "that cute little red-headed girl" he had admired from afar. Yet when she finally noticed him, he thrust his lunch bag over his head in embarrassment, adding humiliation to his troubles.

Anita Charnekar did a remarkable job of portraying Lucy's outspoken, strong-willed, obnoxious nature. When she announced that she was going to become "head queen," the audience roared as she displayed her lust for power. Anita was excellent when she tried to charm piano-minded Schroeder, into falling in love with her.

Linus, played by Greg Rucinski, was as warm and lovable as ever in all his actions. In one scene, he tried to demonstrate his independence by abandoning his blanket, but in a matter of seconds, he came running back for it, terrified.

Ladena Felling put alot of spirit into the part of Patti, who was the silly, dumb blonde stereotype. She said the pledge of allegiance in her own reverent fashion, closing in loyalty with the word "Amen".

Charles Phillips who was Schroeder in the show, did a very nice job in acting the part of a serious, dedicated, quiet boy with much dignity. His devotion to music and worship of Beethoven were his main concerns.

Snoopy kept everybody laughing with his crazy antics. He expressed his feelings about his favorite time of the day ... SUPPERTIME! by dancing and singing to his hearts' delight. Snoopy was played by Tom Wilson, and another one of his better moments was when he was flying high in his Sopwith Camel and cursing the Red Baron for shooting at him. All of the colorful characters helped make this fall comedy an enjoyable success.

Woody Allen comedy presented as spring play

"Don't Drink the Water," a farce by Woody Allen, was performed as the annual spring play by the Gavit drama department, Friday, March 7.

The play dealt with an American caterer on vacation with his wife and daughter in a Communist country behind the Iron Curtain. Walter, the caterer, was suspected of spying when he inadvertently took some pictures near a secret missile base. They were chased into the American embassy where the ambassador was absent, leaving his son, Axel, who had been kicked out of the entire continent of Africa for his mishaps, in charge.

A hilarious comedy, including much slapstick, followed as Axel attempted to secure freedom for the tourists, and finally devised an intricate plan of escape which even he didn't understand. However, throughout all the hilarity, the ambassador's son and caterer's daughter found time to fall in love.

The cast included six major roles and many other minor roles. The clumsy, ambassador's son, Axel Magee (Randy Van Vynckt); Walter Hollander, the obnoxious, overbearing New Jersey caterer (Norman Headrick); Walter's spacy-wife Marion (Marie Scepowskij); Susan Hollander (Diane Kovach) the stereotyped hippie daughter; Father Drobney (Tom Wilson) a priest who had been hiding in the embassy for six years and also practiced magic; and Krojack (Gary Thorsky), head of the secret police were the major characters.

Minor parts included the chef (David Mysliwiec), ambassador/sultan (Ron Brooks), Kasner (Ron Henry), Countess (Laurie Sefton), and embassy guests. (Ruth Lackey, Kari Beldsoe, Lori Hufnagel, Pam Smaron, Kathy Karnafel, and Janet Callahan).

1. Axel Magee (Randy Van Vynckt) cowers as Kilroy (Donna Stepanovich) rebukes him for his many mistakes.

2. The chef (Dave Mysliwiec) hysterically tells Magee that he cannot cook with Communist soldiers staring at him.

3. Walter (Norman Headrick) sneaks a drink from the unsuspecting Count Kasner (Ron Henry) who is talking to the Countess (Laurie Sefton).

4. The ambassador (Ron Brooks) threatens his son, Axel, who formulated a ridiculous escape plan for the tourists, while Kilroy deals with a telephone call from the Communist police.

3 one-acts provide for varied theatrical talents

The three one-act plays were performed May 16. "A Woman's Privilege" by Marijane and Joseph Hayes was a comedy which dealt with a married couple and their marital problems. Stars were Marie Scepkowski, Philip Tidwell, Charles Phillips and Lori Hufnagel. The student director was Sue Welsh.

"The Tell-Tale Heart", adapted by Luella McMahon, was a horrifying Edgar Allen Poe short story of a young man's insanity that drives him to murder. Starring in that production were Daniel Lackey, Debbie Ashlock, Claudia Lee, Kari Bledsoe, Tim Puchley and Dave Mysliwiec. This play was directed by Linda Lee Foster.

"Ledge, Ledger, and Legend" by Paul Elliot was a hilarious comedy about a man who attempted suicide by jumping off a ledge but was continually interrupted. Stars were Randy Van Vynckt, Ruth Lackey and Tom Wilson. The student director was Laurie Sefton.

1. Isabelle (Marie Scepkowski) expresses disgust at her husband (Phil Tidwell) during a scene of "A Woman's Privilege."

2. Pete (Randy Van Vynckt) contemplates self-destruction before approached by a professional suicide counselor in the "Ledge, Ledger, and Legend."

3. Junior Charles Phillips portrayed Dr. Shaw in the drama department's presentation of "A Woman's Privilege."

4. The maid, Anna, (Lori Hufnagel) pays close attention to her employer's instructions.

1 An exasperated father (Kevin Augustyn) finally prepares for his daughter's (Linda Lee Foster) wedding as her mother (Becky Medwetz) puts final touches on her dress.

2 Borden stuns the parents when he convinces Mimsey to continue the wedding with the mere words "cool it."

3 The bathroom door provides a sturdy barrier between Roy and his daughter Mimsey.

4 Anita Charnekar, Joanne Schevchenko, and Beth McCoy transform Becky Medwetz and Jack Spoerner into dramatic actors with makeup and their skillful hands.

5 Preparing to extricate his doubtful bride-to-be, Borden (Jack Spoerner) knocks firmly on the locked bathroom door.

6 Coming apart at the seams, Roy is detained, by Norma, from climbing across the ledge to free his daughter.

7 Joanne Schevchenko offers a helping hand as Becky Medwetz removed her makeup after an exhilarating performance.

Students receive glimpse of Neil Simon comedy

Performed on January 16, the Thespians' annual assembly production was "Visitor from Forest Hill," adapted from the third act of Neil Simon's comedy "Plaza Suite."

A girl names Mimsey (Linda Lee Foster) locked herself in the bathroom and refused to leave in time for her wedding. Having second thoughts about taking the final step in marriage, the comedy centered around the frantic antics of two parents (Becky Medwetz as Norma and Kevin Augustyn as Roy) who ranted and raved in an effort to extricate their daughter from the bathroom. Her parents' rash behavior makes her even more reluctant to enter into a marriage that could make her as unhappy as they.

Finally, after all the confusion, Borden (Jack Spoerner), the future husband, was able to persuade her to come out. "Everything's alright now," exclaimed the happy bride-to-be as she was assured that her marriage could hold a bright future.

Bus benefits students, students assist needy

November of 1974 brought a new addition to Gavit High — a personalized school bus. The bus was purchased with Gavit funds for use by Gavit students, and it solved a financial and transportation problem shared by many clubs and organizations. The two men who alternated the driving were Jim Soraparu and Jack Roberts. The bus was used mostly by the athletic department, but it was also employed by the Spanish Club, Mr. Clausen's graphic arts students, and Mr. Clark's choir, just to name a few.

Student Council, National Honor Society, and the CUC club sponsored the annual canned food drive, which took place November 11 to 27. The drive yielded approximately 1,000 cans, which helped to make a happy Thanksgiving for six families.

1. Gavit's new bus "No. 1" solved the many financial and transportation problems of clubs, organizations, and athletic teams.
2. Honor Society members Tina Mazany and Laurie Sefton, along with Student Council member Barb Lloyd, prepare canned goods for delivery to needy families at Thanksgiving.
3. Starving students sample savory snacks served by Angelique Murphy.
4. Concert Choir became the first organization to use the Gavit bus when they sang for the school board at Christmas time.
5. Crowd gathers as a delicious aroma of baked goods permeates the air.
6. Cans await packaging and delivery to six families during the Thanksgiving holiday.

1974 Prom, "Stairway to Heaven," uplifts spirits

Dancing and romancing on the spirited night, over 200 couples who attended Gavit's 1974 Jr.-Sr. Prom thought May 18 was a "Stairway to Heaven."

Appropriately set in the tiered, elegant ballroom of the Ramada Inn of Dolton, "Stairway to Heaven" featured a three-course dinner and entertainment throughout the evening. "Bittersweet", a moderately tempoed three-man group, played enjoyable old-time favorites including the "Bunny Hop" and "Beer Barrel Polka."

Between bands a humorous magician, Mr. John Streeter, intrigued his audience by pulling a boy's shirt off from underneath his buttoned jacket, embarrassed a girl with a trick pretending to remove part of her attire, and played off the jests from impatient music lovers quite well throughout his performance. After midnight the celebrated New Colony Six appeared, and their original and popular rock music lived up to the great expectations of the dance-happy Prom-goers.

Earlier in the evening, Heidi Reiter was announced the 1974 Prom Queen, escorted by Kent Hill. Her court consisted of four other senior girls: Debbie Hines, escorted by Guy Kikalos; Gail Johnson, accompanied by Jeff Bond; Robin Haack, escorted by Kevin Blaemire; and Robin Mitchell, accompanied by Ed Schoenfelt.

"Stairway to Heaven" was a great success, a well planned evening that even general Prom chairmen Eydie Parsley and Anita Charnekar could relax and enjoy with their dates. To remind them of this enjoyable night, all who attended received an attractive crystal glass with the Prom theme and date printed on it, and natural color pictures were taken by Ted Wahlberg of Cedar Lake, Indiana. At 3 a.m. Prom-goers descended the "Stairway to Heaven".

1 Camera attracts attention of guest teachers, Mr. Robert Spry, Mr. Douglas Pearson, Mr. Richard Clausen and their companions.

2 Drinks refresh thirsty dancers, Tim Degnan and Kim Sweeney, between songs.

7 After an enjoyable evening, Inaugural-goers Shirley Kazmer and Allen Porter regretted their early departure.

"Starlight on the Snow" highlights Inaugural Ball

A romantic atmosphere surrounded about 160 couples at the annual winter dance, the Inaugural Ball. The theme, "Starlight on the Snow," was demonstrated with snowflakes, prisms, and mistletoe hung from silver mobiles and garland.

Bittersweet played soft rock music with a medley of the "Fabulous Fifties." Couples relaxed and were served refreshments in the lounge, while Santa visited with them. At the same time, others were having pictures taken by Wahlberg's of Cedar Lake.

A special feature was the first Inaugural court. King and queen were Mark Bearby and Susan Pomplin from the senior class, and there were also princes and princesses from each of the other classes. Nick Pappas and Laura Geary represented the juniors, Greg DeBruler and Cynthia O'Donnell the sophomores, and Dave Mysliwiec and Debbie Horvath the freshmen.

The dance was sponsored by Student Council. It was successfully planned by Anita Charnekar, the dance chairman and her four committees: publicity, entertainment, refreshments, and decorations.

Assemblies add variety, interest student body

Making good use of their out-of-class time, students enjoyed four outstanding assemblies this year.

Student Council leaders pledged a year of innovation and unity on October 1, when president Randy Van Vynckt, vice president Kevin Augustyn, secretary Joyce Yoways, and treasurer Sue Papesh recited their inaugural oaths of office in unison. Four weeks later, the SCROLL and FUTURA staffs put on two enjoyable skits to encourage support of the publications department. Making students aware of the difficulties that handicapped people must face, Mrs. Sharon Gardner (a paraplegic who is music director for WJOB radio) and Mr. Gene Rieck (a blind vocational rehabilitation counselor for the Agency for the Blind) encouraged students to assist and befriend the handicapped, when the two visited Gavit on November 12. On February 13, WGN-TV (channel 9) weatherman Harry Volkman encouraged students to embark upon an exciting career in meteorology.

1. Newly sworn-in Student Council president, Randy Van Vynckt, outlines future plans in the annual Inaugural Assembly.
2. Mrs. Sharon Gardner and Mr. Gene Rieck discuss the problems of handicapped people in America.
3. "Gravits" from the planet "Tivag" invaded Gavit to aid in promoting the Futura during the first Publications Assembly.
4. Joyce Pandak greeted Harry Volkman, channel nine meteorologist, who informed students about the basics of meteorology through a film presentation, and a question and answer session.

Concerts, contests refine musical talents, skills

All year long, Gavitt musicians diligently practiced for various concerts and N.I.S.B.O.V.A. contests. Both band and vocal students devoted much time to developing their skills as talented musical performers.

Besides working on the Fall Concert on October 16, the Christmas concert entitled "Holiday Ports of Call" on December 15, the inter-school spring band concert on March 14, the spring pop concert on April 11, and the Pop Concert on May 9, the students spent time individually to perfect their instrumental and vocal solos and ensembles for the N.I.S.B.O.V.A. contests.

Gavitt hosted the N.I.S.B.O.V.A. Stage Band and Swing Choir Contest on January 18, and students from 22 bands and 18 choirs participated. Gavitt's own Stage Band received a second in Group III, missing a first by one point. The Gavitt Band Boosters and choir members helped make the contest possible by taking admission, serving lunch, and coordinating the entire event.

On January 25, the N.I.S.B.O.V.A. Band and Orchestra District Contest was held at Highland Jr. High School. Four students from Gavitt qualified for State. Playing Group I solos, Steve Bechtel (trumpet), and Elaine Stephens and Joyce Yoways (clarinet) received first place ratings, and Sue Papesch, Stephens, and Yoways placed first in their Group I clarinet trio.

The following Saturday on February 1, the N.I.S.B.O.V.A. Vocal and Piano District Contest took place at Gary Lew Wallace High School. Vocal soloists Melanie Mayfield, Becky Medwetz, Joe Chudy, and Donna Stepanovich received firsts in Group I competition. A trio sung by Wendy Carle, Patti Grillion, and Claudia Lee, a barbershop quartet sung by Sandy Grillion, Medwetz, Mayfield, and Bethann McCoy, and an ensemble which consisted of the Boy's Glee Club each received firsts in Group I. Stephens placed first on a Group I piano solo.

N.I.S.B.O.V.A. State Auditions on February 15 were in Indianapolis at Butler University. Yoways got a first on her clarinet solo, as did Stephens on her piano solo. Firsts on vocal solos went to Stepanovich, Medwetz, and Mayfield, and the vocal trio also got a first. Seconds went to Bechtel and Stephens for their instrumental solos, and the quartet and Boy's Glee Club also received seconds.

Gavitt's Concert Choir sang live for WJOB audiences on December 17. They also taped a program for channel 50 on February 25.

1. Marty Jacobson relates the story of Hanukkah along with vocal accompaniment supplied by Concert Choir.

2. "Tourists" embark on a journey to many countries via foreign melodies.

3. Judy Lamb, Dave Spillers, Keith Orze, Lisa Easton, and other stage band members added their talent to the Christmas concert.

4. Girls' Chorus demonstrates some fancy footwork.

Seniors explore and discover nation's capital

While most people were sleeping at 4:00 a.m. on October 24, ten very sleepy seniors boarded a bus to O'Hare Airport, and at 6:45 a.m. they were on their way to Washington D.C. This was just the beginning of the exciting, enchanting, and unforgettable 1974 four-day senior trip to the nation's capital.

The Capitol Building, Washington Monument, Jefferson Memorial, and Lincoln Memorial were among the outstanding educational sights that they viewed. One of the more interesting sights to everyone was the Smithsonian Institute, which displayed some of the world's most outstanding historic and scientific treasures. The highlight of their visit was a side trip to Annapolis, Maryland, where they were fortunate enough to view the Naval Academy's annual Homecoming formalities, which included a twenty-one gun salute and a full dress parade.

Melanie Kujawa commented, "It was great, and it was a good experience" while Judy Thomas added, "It was a lot of fun." Pam Harreld, Bob Matter, Tom Tuskan, Barb Smith, Brenda Jurich, Becky Lax and Terry Wszolek agreed that the senior trip was not only fun, but educational.

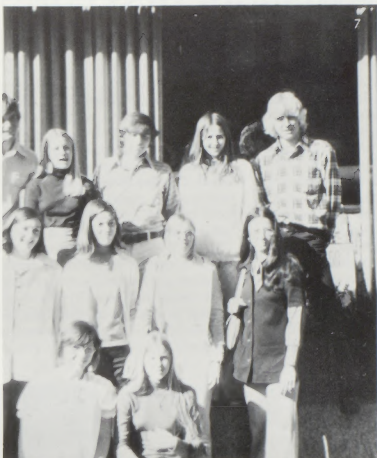

On October 27, a tired but happy group of seniors, along with their energy-depleted sponsors Miss Laurel Vicari and Mr. Richard Willis, returned home with fond memories.

Gavit transforms from pasture to modern school

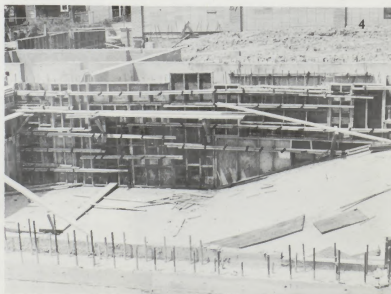

In the beginning, Gavit was a green pasture full of flowers, rabbits, birds, and frogs. A Mr. Gasperovich owned the property, as well as a large amount of the surrounding area. It was mostly pasture and swampland, which was used mainly for hunting and fishing. Ducks, quail, pheasant, and rabbits were very plentiful.

The neighbors of the Gasperoviches were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Narantic, whose property boundary was what is now the school alley. They grazed their livestock there, and their children would ride horses on the property. The roads surrounding their property, where 175th Street runs now, were all gravel with ditches on all sides.

Soil was broken on the site for Gavit on March 30, 1961, and construction was started soon after. At first, Gavit has only seventh, eighth, and ninth grades, but higher grades were provided for the students as they completed each grade level. The tenth grade was added in 1961, the eleventh in 1962, the twelfth in 1963, and the first graduating class emerged in June of 1964.

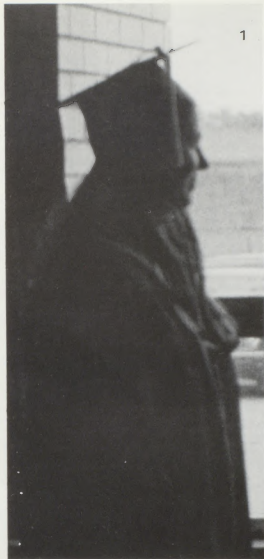

Since that time Gavit has gone through a few changes. A new pool and weight-room complex was added in 1972, and the front of the building was reconstructed in 1973.

1 Long before there was any thought or planning of Gavit, the Gasperovich family farmed its present property.
2 White panels, added in 1973, were used to reconstruct the front of the building.

3 Gavit appears here as it did to many students during their brief attendance.

4 The pool complex opened when construction was completed in 1972.

Gavit seniors welcome challenges of the future

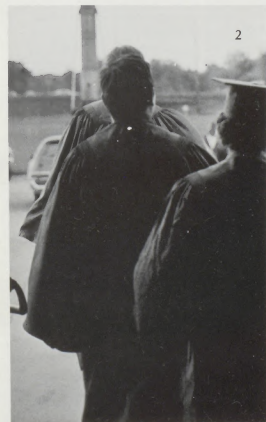

On May 28, 1974, the Honors Day Assembly was held for the graduating class of 1974. Mistress of ceremonies was Marian Lucas, and the invocation was delivered by Chris Stewart. A variety of awards were presented to the outstanding students of the class. Awards included in the assembly were foreign language awards, the D.A.R. award, home economics awards, and G.A.A. awards. Scholarships and the senior class gift were also presented during the assembly, as well as the announcement of the outstanding senior boy and girl, Todd Clark and Chris Stewart.

On Wednesday, June 5, 1974, commencement took place in the Gavit gymnasium. After Linda Bibzak's valedictory address and Todd Clark's salutatory address, a message to the graduates was delivered by Dr. Wayne Carle, superintendent of schools.

The 289 students were then presented their diplomas by Mr. Donald Moretton, principal of Gavit. Fifty-two seniors were distinguished as being a member of the National Honor Society by their gold tassels. Members of the Gavit Honor Society were distinguished by gold cords. Jody Rausch offered the benediction at the end of the ceremony.

Officers of the graduating class were William Cosgrove, president; Thomas Eder, vice-president; Denise Linsemann, secretary; and Marilyn Drudge, treasurer. Class sponsors were Mrs. Karen Kroccek and Mr. Richard Clausen.

1 One senior finds a moment of solitude to contemplate her future plans.

2 New alumni leave Gavit with their diplomas and many memories.

3 Graduates race out into the world welcoming the many challenges of the future.

The Atrium

"The Atrium" or "the heart", of Gavit lay within the three organizations, who utilized the student lounge; Student Council, NHS and CUC.

The Council sought to eliminate student apathy by involving students in worthwhile activities. They sponsored the football Homecoming dance on October 18, the Inaugural Ball ("Starlight on the Snow") on December 20, and Gavit's Fifties Dance in April to get things moving. In an effort to beautify the Student lounge, Student Council chose a design by mural contest winner Kathy Rucinski. Student Council was responsible for Gavit's first spring carnival ever, as they provided rides and organized school clubs who set up booths.

Student Council planned many new activities including a student exchange program with area schools, a student-faculty Switch-off Day, Dress-up Week, and a Sixties Dance featuring Beatles music.

Leadership, character, scholarship and service are the basis of selection to qualify for the National Honor Society. All who do qualify are supreme in many ways not only in scholastic entities.

The charitable efforts of C.U.C. is appreciated by many underprivileged children around the world.

Visual and literary mass media develops skills for the future

Cinema Club members and Scroll staffers learned about mass media through first-hand experience with visual communication. Students with skilled experience in publications were named to the honorary journalistic club, Quill and Scroll.

Quill & Scroll

Cinema Club's 88 film buffs viewed and discussed classic movies during club periods to appreciate filmmaking and better understand themes. Members borrowed club cameras to create their own film masterpieces, and they reviewed each one to benefit from their mistakes. The best of these creative endeavors were to be entered in Kodak's annual Teen-age Movie-making Contest in the spring.

In its fourteenth year of publication, the Scroll continued to provide Gavit with newsworthy stories pertaining to the student body. The 14 staff members collaborated to produce 10 monthly issues loaded with Gladiator sports, school happenings, and special features. They met as a class every day during sixth period to learn good journalistic techniques, and they worked individually to complete writing, photography, and artwork assignments.

Scroll editor Ron Henry attended a five-week journalism seminar in July at prestigious Northwestern University, where he improved many of his skills. He put his graphic arts knowhow to use by creating new layout designs that gave the Scroll a new look, and he gave knowledgeable guidance to fellow staffers.

Labs, lizards, and learners

Science Club hosted Gavit's science fair, took field trips, and learned from guest speakers, keeping one goal in mind: to promote an interest and encourage possible careers in science. Gavit's eighth science fair, which displayed about 70 individual exhibits and six advanced research projects, was held on March 19. Field trips, such as a November excursion to Brookfield Zoo, enabled members to study living organisms in controlled and natural habitats.

Lab assistants performed tasks for teachers and helped students in the science rooms.

Invading Gavit with lizards, snakes, and frogs, Herpetology Club studied amphibians and reptiles. The newborn club, sponsored by Miss Laurel Vicari, accompanied the Science Club on a field trip to Brookfield Zoo.

The band started out the year's activities with a swimming party followed by a pizza party sponsored by the Band Boosters. It was a tremendous success enjoyed by all who attended.

As sounds fill the air . . .

Every day, all day long, countless stimulating melodies seeped from within the interior of room 123. Singing all types of music including pop, classical, jazz, and blues, vocalists strived to express their deep emotions of love for music and the happiness it brings into their lives.

The skilled and dedicated director of those floating melodious tunes was Mr. Thomas Clark. He spent countless hours with his students practicing for the various spectacular concerts they performed.

Lights, Camera, Action . . .

It all starts back stage with the Gavit Stage Crew. Creating an effective stage production takes time and great effort. Without a crew working together with the actors and actresses, the show could not go on.

Thespians are a group of high school actors and actresses designed to meet the qualifications of the International Thespian Society by excelling in their efforts towards stage work and acting abilities. The Thespains work on crews and act to entitle them to attain points which they need before becoming a Thespian. After acquiring points, at the end of each year is an annual banquet where newcomers are initiated.

A touch of professionalism is added to every production with the assistance of the Usherettes. The new uniforms issued this year, added a stunning new look of which they are all proud of.

The Usherettes, Stage Crew, Mime and Thespians are all directed by Mrs. Macey, a new member of the faculty.

Assisted by their sponsor Ms. Koscielniak, the Debate Team attended a seminar in Fort Wayne, on September 28. They also went to a speech conference at Purde-Lafayette on December 13th, and 14th.

The Chess Club had fifty members who sold stationery, Christmas Decorations, candles and glitter plaques. The profits were used to finance the extravagant prizes given to the winners.

The students in Typing Club had the opportunity to hear speakers from businesses and industries, who informed them of possible job employment.

The Office Education Association gave C.O.E. students a further opportunity to become acquainted with office occupations.

The Human Relations Club was created this year by Ms. Koscielniak to help people appreciate others. Members visited the Field Museum in Chicago on November 9. No officers were elected, in order to achieve full participation and equality among members.

All clubs at Gavit wished to achieve an interest in many, different and practical fields. Students follow the beat of their own drum, doing, what, to them, seems good. "For I could never make you see That no one knows what is good."

Lend a hand . . .

Lending a hand today can only mean working together and discovering each other.

Your grief and mine
Must intertwine
Like sea and river
be fused and mingle
Diverse yet single
Forever and forever
Let no man be so proud
and confident,
To think he is allowed a little tent
Pitched in a meadow
of sun and shadow
all his little own.

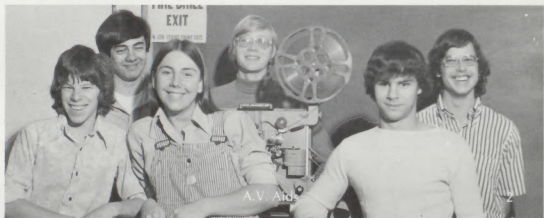

By C. Cullen

No man can seclude himself from someone who cries help.
At Gavit it is evident that people who reach out for help receive it.

The 74-75 year Drill Team had a total of 25 hard working members. Their sponsor Mrs. Hayes worked along with the captains, Debra Bartnik, and Pam Stephens to give the Drill Team a whole new look. Drill team has been at Gavit 10 years and still going strong.

The sparkling twirlers always add a touch of beauty to any athletic function. Lead by captains Melaine Lock and Diane McMahon the twirlers display many astounding fire and twirling routines.

Cheers ...

Gavit's nine cheerleaders were a talented group with lots of gymnastic ability to do backflips and pyramids. Due to their outstanding enthusiasm, the group received the coveted Spirit Stick Award at an NCA clinic at Vincennes on July 15-16.

The varsity cheerleading squad consisted of four, two-year veterans and one newcomer, sophomore Mary Johnson. As varsity captain senior Cindy Graczyk was responsible for calling practices and arranging details; she enjoyed contributing to the boy's victories by rousing students to support the football and basketball teams. Having gained confidence and become more outgoing by being a cheerleader, senior Debbie Dittrich planned to use her experience to someday become a social worker. One of the two and a half sets of twins on the cheerleading teams, juniors Dori and Lori Frye thought hard but fun practicing was the key to good cheerleading: Dori worked on mastering a round-off backflip, and Lori worked to get a round-off back aerial. Mary Johnson liked to 'get the crowd going' with spirited cheers and aerial stunts.

All the reserve team were first-year cheerleaders at Gavit, as junior Linda Rippe captained the four novices. Another dose of "double trouble," Susan and Sharon Geurts felt honored to cheer on the Glads, and they pleased the crowd with their unusual double cartwheel. Sophomore Pat Pagnette joined the team later in the year in place of Laura Delaney.

Actions speak louder than words

The Pep Club created spirit and enthusiasm at Gavit's football and basketball games. The 70 members raised money with bake sales to enable them to attend away games. Their new purple outfits and pom pons showed a greater unity than the group had in the past.

Pep Club's 1974-75 officers were Lu Ann Fatheree, president; Debbie Davis, vice president; Sue Peruts, secretary; and Joanne Schevchenko, treasurer.

Rotarians is an international organization of business and civic leaders. Each month the Hammond chapter of Rotarians invited representatives from area high schools to a luncheon meeting. Here each student could discuss different areas of business with various professionals.

Gavit student representatives are chosen yearly by the guidance staff according to academic, scholastic, and extramural activities. Mike Callahan, Jim Saltanovitz, Perry Ferrini, Kurt Werth, Roger Montano, Randy Vanyck, Steve Bechtel, and Dave Orzechowicz were Gavit Rotarians for 1974-75.

WE MAY NEVER PASS
THIS WAY AGAIN...

A concise history of the class of 1975

Entering the first eighth-grade float in a Gavitt Homecoming parade, the Class of 1975 received their first notoriety in 1970 with "Snoopy Says, Put the Senators in the Dog House!" As experienced freshmen they won the Homecoming float competition with "Glad — Wrap the Pioneer Leftovers", and they sold the most freshman candy of any Gladiator group, raising about $4,800 for their treasury. Their money was put to good use in their junior year when they created a "Stairway to Heaven", Gavitt's glamorous 1974 Jr.-Sr. Prom. Homecoming again was a highlight for the Class of 1975 in their senior year, when they took first place in the float competition with a hand-manipulated, moving bee that was built to "Take the Sting out of the Warriors."

Individuals of the Class of 1975 excelled in nearly all areas of scholastics. Randy Van Vynckt, Joanne Undli, Steve Bechtel, and Carol Chivington comprised the largest group of National Merit Scholarship finalists in a Gavitt senior class. More Glad voices than ever — those of seniors Sandy Grillion, Melanie Mayfield, Alice Rubin, Donna Stepanovich, Pam Stephens, and alternate Dan Bratton — were chosen to sing in the elite 1975 All-State Choir. Selected to participate in the Indiana University Honors Program for Foreign Languages were Joy Jankowski and Randy Van Vynckt, who lived in Europe for two summer months and studied French and German, respectively. Scientifically speaking, Ruth Dankanich's creative projects in psychology earned her numerous awards and a great deal of respect, while Bob Headrick was named second alternate to the 1975 International Science Fair for his work with gibberellic acid.

Members of the Class of '75 also sported their prowess in several areas of athletic endeavor. Talented Rich Korem and Perry Ferrini were selected to the Times All-Conference football team. Korem starred in baseball and basketball as well. Superstars Jeri Hoffmann and Kim Thomas were outstanding players on GAA extramural basketball, volleyball, and field hockey teams. Mike Callahan was an excellent all-around athlete, as he earned All-Conference honors in soccer and football while winning the Lake Shore Conference and sectional wrestling championships at 155 pounds. Sharron Fullgraf set the state record for 220-yard dash (25.6 seconds) and played basketball, and Susan Pomplin was outstanding in tennis and basketball. All-Conference basketball center Tim Bajusz held the region's second highest scoring average (21.5 points) for the 74-75 season, and his high scholastic average earned him Academic All-State honors.

Mr. Richard Willis and Miss Laurel Vicari were the sponsors for the Class of 1975.

After being the under-dogs of the school for 3 years the Class of 75, pyramids their way to the top.

1st ROW: R. Fields, J. Saltanovitz, K. Werth, J. Chudy, J. Ossanna, M. Pawlowski, R. Korpella, S. Bechtel, A. Labus. 2nd ROW: J. Kapec, B. Headrick, J. Breidenbaugh, P. Ovaert, E. Kaczmarczyk, C. Graczyk, S. Welch, T. Wszolek. 3rd ROW: A. Charnekar, D. Richardson J. Adams, J. Undi, D. Ditttrich, B. Cofer, D. Opasik. TOP ROW: S. Fullgraf.

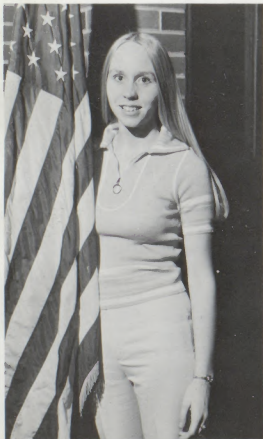

Seniors gain special honors in 1975

Valedictorian for the Class of 1975 was Joanne Undi, who maintained a perfect 4.0 average throughout her high school career. A National Merit Finalist, Joanne was a Swim Aide and served as vice-president of Science Club. On the homefront, she enjoyed sewing and reading.

Joanne planned to major in industrial engineering at Purdue University.

Pam Stephens was Gavit's D.A.R. winner for 1974-75, as Sue Papesh and Barb Smith were the two runners-up chosen by the senior class. Pam was active in Student Council, All-State Choir, Concert Choir, and Rhythmettes, and she served as vice-president of the senior class and captain of the Drill Team. She was selected by the Daughters of the American Revolution for her display of leadership, patriotism and service.

The Salutatorian for 1975 was Pat Ovaert. Pat was involved in many activities in her four years at Gavit. She was in such clubs as Herpetology Club, Nursing Club and the National Honor Society. Her hobbies included rock music, cooking, and dancing.

Pat was accepted at the Memorial Nursing School in South Bend, where she will learn to become a specialized nurse.

Joy Jankowski and Randy Van Vynckt spent eight weeks a piece in Europe last summer studying French and German, respectively. Both students lived with native families in their respective study centers of St. Brieuc, France and Krefeld, Germany. The trip was sponsored by Indiana University.

Gavit's 1974-75 Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow award went to Becky Medwetz.

Each year the Betty Crocker Search test is given by General Mills, Inc. to interested seniors throughout the nation. The person who scores highest at his or her high school is eligible to compete in state and national competition in the spring. State winners receive $1,500 college scholarship, while national winners will receive $5,000 in scholarship awards.

The announcement of the Top Ten Seniors for the Class of 1975 marked the beginning of the second semester. Students selected for the Top Ten were representatives of the top academic records in the senior class, which is composed of 336 students. Class rank is determined by the first seven semesters of academic work. Counselors released the following names in order of rank: Joanne Undi, valedictorian; Pat Ovaert, salutatorian; Steve Bechtel, 3; Barb Smith, 4; Donna Kugler, 5; Theresa Wszolek, 6; Ron Henry, 7; Nancy Perry, 8; Brenda Jurich, 9; Randy Van Vynckt, 10.

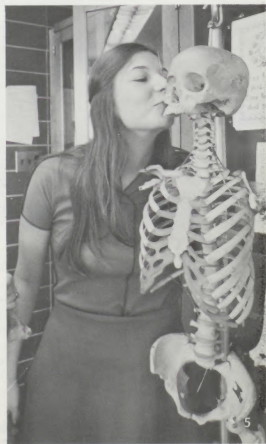

Randy Van Vynckt, Joanne Undi, Steve Bechtel, and Carol Chivington were selected as National Merit Scholarship Finalists, comprising the largest group of finalists in any Gavit class. Due to their outstanding NMSQT/PSAT scores, the four were notified that they were semifinalists in October 1974. After their SAT scores were combined with their original scores, they became finalists in February 1975. In March it was determined whether or not each would receive any scholarship money.

Four Seniors, Mike Callahan, Ruth Dankanich, Becky Medwetz, and Jim Saltanovitz attended Boy's and Girl's State at I.S.U. the summer of 74.

For one-week they lived what they learned. Political parties were formed and election's were held.

Senior life is . . .
varied, serious, and funny

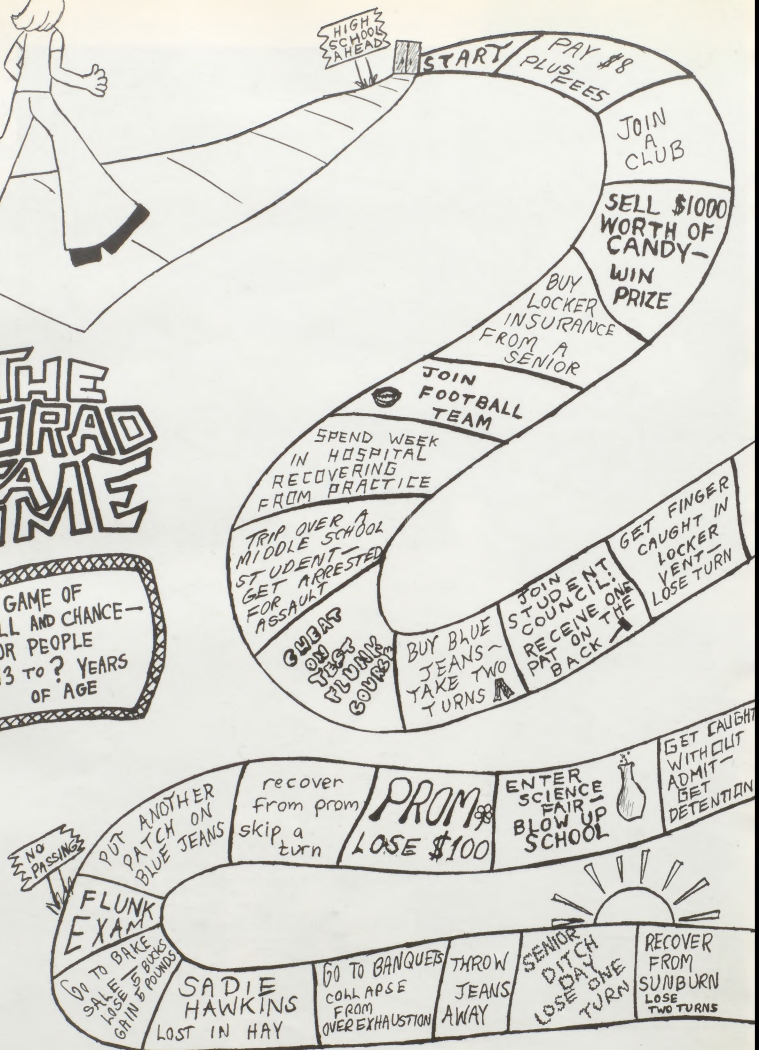

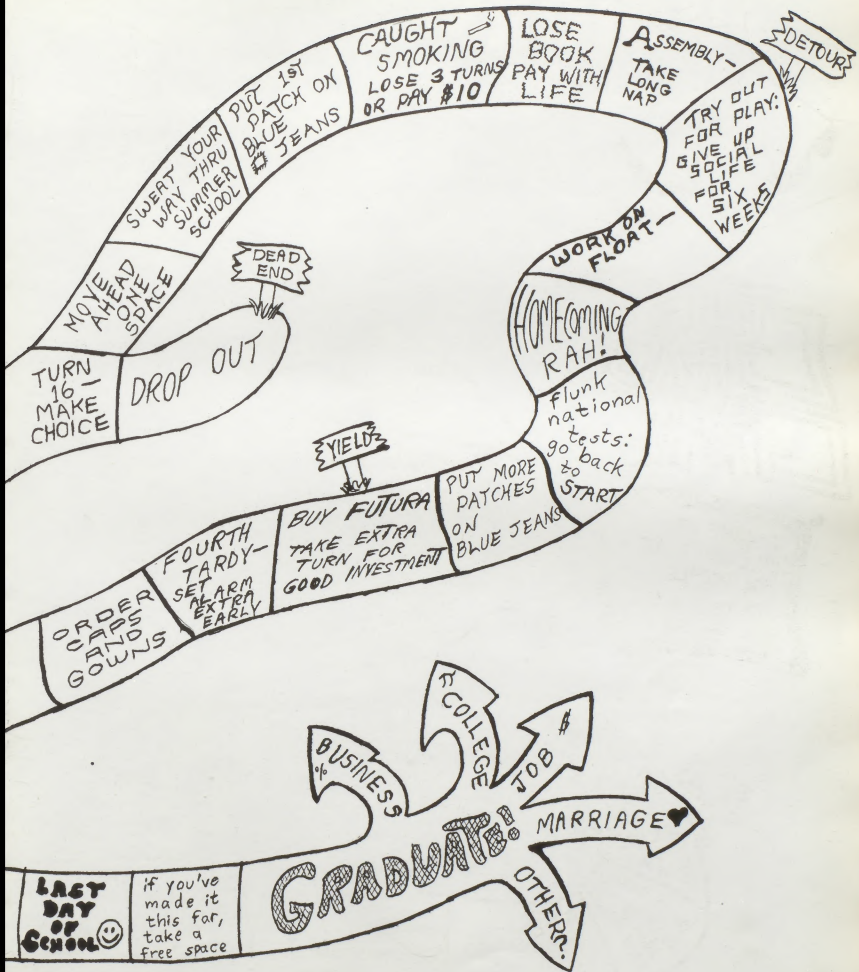

1. Mike Callahan and Randy Bond discuss final points of just completed game.
2. "Let me out!"
3. A bunch of hams.
4. Sharron Fullgraf says "Happiness is being a senior."
5. "Kiss me you fool!"
6. Hey, chump!
7. Art Labus will never forget the Gavitt rhythms of life.
8. Somehow, leaving Gavitt is a lonely feeling.

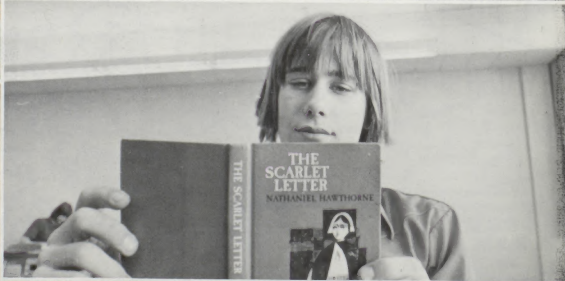

THE GRAD GAME

A GAME OF
SKILL AND CHANCE—
FOR PEOPLE

OF AGE

The Class of '76 decided the best way to win Gavit's Homecoming game was to "rock the Noll boat;" so they started off their year of spirited activities by warning the Warriors with their float, "You Won't Be Saved This Time," a take-off on Noll's Ark.

Most of the eleventh graders started looking forward to their future plans. In October many '76'ers took the PSAT test, the preliminary exam before the important college entrance test, the SAT, which is taken by seniors. Juniors had the opportunity to learn about the institution of their choice at College Night on November 13, when representatives from several colleges and universities came to Gavit.

The juniors' biggest responsibility was handling the arrangements for Gavit's 1975 Junior-Senior Prom, "We May Never Pass This Way Again," held at Marquette Park Pavilion on May 10. The prom chairperson was Wendy Carle, and seven committees worked to make arrangements for the hall, line up the bands, work on bids and favors, send invitations and obtain chaperones, make signs for publicity, sell and account for tickets, and decorate the hall for the occasion.

SOPHOMORES

The class of 1977 had a very exciting year. Homecoming week found them busy working on their float "Raid 'Em." They ordered their class rings from Josten ring company in the fall and received them in December.

Sophomores looked ahead to next year by making preliminary Prom plans. The committees were formed in the spring to search for the best place, menu, bands and date. Sophomores looked closely at the 1975 Junior-Senior Prom to get as many ideas as possible.

Sophomore class officers were Steve Owen, president; John Burdyl, vice president; Rex Thompson, treasurer; and Patty Beck, secretary. Miss Margaret Fitzgerald and Mr. Cary Eckard sponsored the Class of '77.

SPONSORS AND OFFICERS: Mrs. Leslie Keller, Richard Blastic, president; Mr. Robert Welte, Danelle Stula, secretary; Debra Horvat, treasurer; and Mary Ellen Klobuchar, vice-president.

The Freshmen class proved their enthusiasm and spirit during Homecoming Week by winning the Spirit Trophy. They also constructed their first homecoming float. The theme of the float was "Boot the Institution".

To earn money for future activities such as Jr-Sr Prom, class homecoming floats and senior banquet, a greatly successful candy sale was conducted. Other activities could not have been organized without the help of their class officers Rich Blastic, president; Mary Ellen Klobuchar, vice president; Danelle Stula, secretary; and Debra Horvat, treasurer. Their class sponsors are Mrs. Leslie Keller and Mr. Robert Welte.

Taking care of business means practical experience

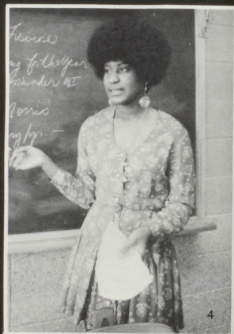

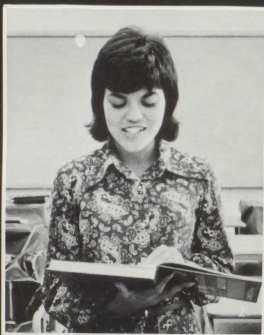

By 1980 80% of all jobs will be occupied by non-college graduates. In order to meet this greatly increasing demand, the business department offered over 15 courses in almost every field. There were three specific courses of study: stenography developed skills for a successful typing, stenographic or secretarial position; clerical courses developed skills for general office work; and bookkeeping prepared bookkeeping majors to be typists, clerk typists, general bookkeepers, and assistant bookkeepers.

Senior business students had the opportunity to put their business skills to work for them with the Cooperative Occupational Education (C.O.E.) program. Participants in this program received job placement in which reputable companies cooperated with students in apprentice programs.

Business courses not only prepared students for future jobs, but continued to help them with future everyday problems.

It is often said that the business of living is never really finished.

Special education helps

Gavit's special education department was designed to provide help for students who had specific learning problems.

Students enrolled in this program, from both middle school and high school, were taught the basic skills of math, English, science and social studies. They also could take almost any elective they chose.

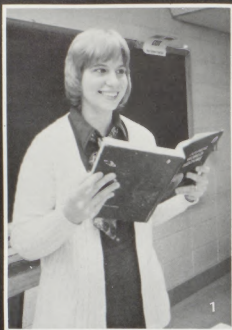

However, the main goal of the special ed program was to get students back into a regular program of classes and to help them feel accepted by their fellow students in school.

Since the students in each class vary in their capabilities and speed of progress, classes were individualized. This gave the teacher more time and opportunity to know their students a little better so that they could help each one progress at his own speed.

The special ed teachers stressed independence to make the students in their program self-sufficient members of their community. To further this goal, they had a work-study program similar to the C.O.E. program — half a day of study, half a day of work. They punched in and out, got paid, and just got the feel of job life.

Another service of the special ed department was a plan for the blind and partially sighted. Mr. Bretschneider was the teacher who acted as tutor, counselor and over-all trouble shooter for these students, who worked to become independent citizens. Room 215 provided a place where the five students in the program could use Braille, large print, and tape-recorded materials, as well as receive help from Mr. Bretschneider, to do their homework from regular classes.

Mathematics department shows progressiveness

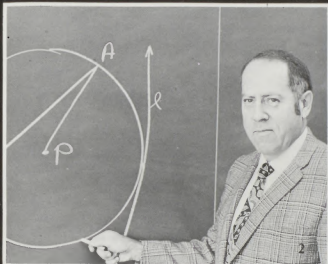

Interest in higher math at Gavitt doubled since last year as shown by the increase from one to three algebra-trigonometry classes. Students from the phased-out UICSM program were rechannelled into math analysis and calculus classes. Here they learned advanced math skills necessary for many technical professions.

Algebra, geometry, general math and basic math classes continued to provide students with a sound mathematical background for college and everyday living.

In algebra students learned the basic language of math that is used in college. Geometry students applied their algebra knowledge to draw rectangles, circles and use other Euclidean concepts.

In the Basic Math I and General Math I classes students learned how to deal with everyday arithmetic problems. Basic Math II and General Math II students pursued their practical math skills by learning to deal with interest, loans, and problems that they will encounter in the business world.

IN MEMORIAM

We do not err because truth is difficult to see. It is visible at a glance. We err because this is more comfortable. Alexander Solzhenitsyn

Mrs. Ruth Jones, who passed away in the spring of 1974, will not be forgotten by Gavit students and teachers. Mrs. Jones was a teacher in the mathematics department, and had taught at Gavit since September of 1967. She was also a co-sponsor of the junior high National Honor Society.

Scientists seek self-discovery

Science teachers made classroom learning fun by encouraging students to make interesting discoveries on their own, while staying open to a little scientific humor as well.

Avid science students could take all five science courses, beginning with the required one — semester health and safety class. They could then continue with full-year classes, including biology, advanced biology, chemistry and physics. All students were required to take only one laboratory science course, besides health and safety.

Health and safety students gained a better understanding of their bodily functions and basic physical and emotional needs. Mr. Paul Brush also taught his five classes how to prevent accidents and react effectively in emergencies.

Biology, the study of flora and fauna (plant and animal life), helped students appreciate the natural environment around them. Miss Laurel Vicari conducted her four biology classes in a scientifically organized fashion in the hope of teaching students clear, logical thinking. Mrs. Frances Reinke encouraged her three classes to have a lifelong interest in science, exposing them to such natural wonders as the healing power of the alivari plant. Department head Michael Kobe prepared his two biology classes to engage in further scientific investigation by teaching them efficient scientific methods, correct microscopic examination, and how to accurately collect data. All three biology teachers had students read special programmed learners to aid in study.

Advanced biology students received valuable college preparation as they pursued one semester of anatomy with a semester of cytology (the study of cell biology). Having to memorize hundreds of terms for human muscles and bones, anatomy students also dissected animal specimens such as sharks and fetal pigs in order to compare differences in body structure among vertebrates. Cytology students learned about genetics and how to do independent research by raising and crossing eight varieties of fruit flies, and organizing their observations research paper at the end of the semester. Mr. Kobe kept his cytology lectures interesting by using humorous illustrations, including his convincing imitation of a molecule, fish, and fruit fly.

Chemistry and physics were taught by Mr. David Vrbancich, a novice teacher who tried to improve room 313 by restoring lab benches, replacing non-potent chemicals, and posting new scientific charts. Chemistry students learned about the structure of matter and how it behaves by experimenting with such materials as sulphur dioxide and sodium hydroxide. By observing how mechanical devices such as pulleys and levers move objects, physics students gained an understanding of how forces act upon matter.

This year five students worked on complex independent projects during the school year, and an additional seventy students prepared projects for Gavit's PTA-sponsored spring science fair. This type of self-reliant research has been very beneficial to Gavit science grads who have continued their science education in college.

I think and think for months and years. Ninety-nine times the conclusion is false. The hundredth time I am right.

Involvement in industry interests industrial artists

While learning to work with various materials, industrial arts students related the skills they learned in class to America's ever-growing industrial society.

The industrial arts department offered seven elective courses which were graphic arts, wood-working, metals, electricity, drafting, plastics and ceramics, and power mechanics.

Students interested in printing or photography earned the fundamentals of these two skills in graphic areas. Included in the course were printing methods, design and layout techniques, and a brief unit on the history of the printing industry. An important aspect of graphic arts was the Gladiators Press, a student-run production shop that printed almost anything for businesses and clubs and furnished many of Gavit's tickets and programs.

Woodworking students learned the various tools of the trade in order to build wood constructions. Individual projects have included foot stools, pool cue racks, tables, coffee tables, and bows and arrows.

Metals was an introduction to the various skills of the metal industry including machining, welding and heat-treating. Besides these laboratory activities, a study of industrial organizations made students aware of occupations in metals.

Radio and television repair was an example of putting to use the knowledge students gained in electricity. They learned the basic principles of electricity in class and from textbooks, then applied their skills at school and at home.

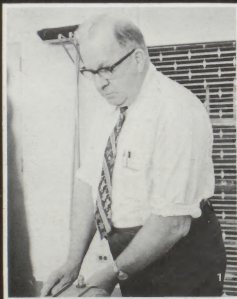

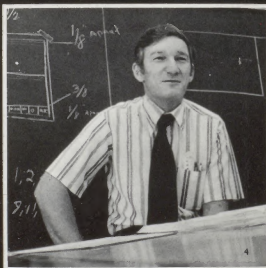

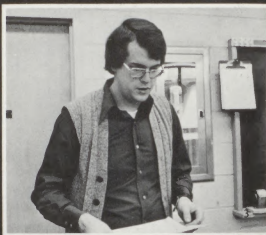

Drafting covered a wide range of skills from blueprint reading to the designing of a home. After students became familiarized with the basic drawing instruments they were able to make machine drawings and architectural drawings for home construction.

Plastics and ceramics students learned to create objects using synthetic materials. Various forms of casting, molding, glazing and staining were taught so that students could combine their talent and knowledge into project work.

Interest in engines and energy were explored in power mechanics. The internal combustion engine, concepts of energy conversion, and prospects for future power sources were studied in the program.

Contrary to popular belief, the industrial arts program is not directed solely toward males. Many girls who have already completed industrial arts courses have shown talent and are furthering their education in this field. Neither are industrial art classes designed specifically for vocational training. The department is mainly concerned with broadening students' knowledge of the field of industry, although students may also receive vocational guidance as well.

Musicians manufacture many a merry melody

Gavit's choral department involved many groups of happy, singing students who loved being together and working with music. Singing together put them in happy moods — the kind of moods that lasted all day, as the tunes buzzed through their heads and filled their hearts with gladness.

Among these happy groups were the Rhythmaires and Rhythmettes, which were ensembles consisting of sophomore, junior, and senior boys and girls in the music department. Three choirs were Concert Choir, Girls' Chorale, and Mixed Glee. There were twenty-nine boys this year in the vocal department, and hopefully that many will stay on so that a vocal balance can be maintained in the mixed groups.

Due to the enthusiastic supervision of Mr. Clark, Gavit has had a consistently fine choral department. Last September six students were selected for All-State Choir. The Concert Choir was privileged to sing on WJOB radio at Christmas time, and Gavit's participation in the NISBOVA vocal contest in January was also excellent.

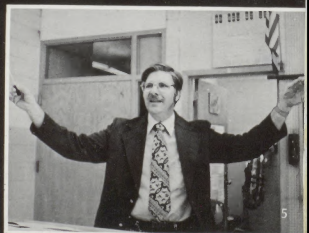

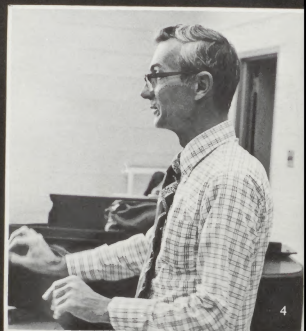

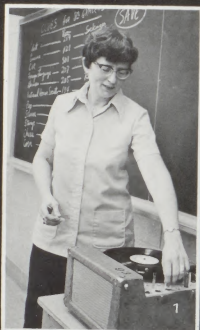

Besides directing three choral presentations in October, December, and April, Clark taught music theory, which helped those students who hoped to major in some musical field. He organized the trip made by twenty-seven musicians to Thornton Community College September 24, to learn about future careers in music. A fine arts festival in the spring combined the music and art departments.

Gavit's brassy high school band helped to boost school spirit by performing spectacular half-time shows at five Friday night home football games. Teamwork made the difference and cooperation within the band had good effects. Mr. Zaley, Gavit's disciplinary director, was very pleased with the hard-working group of students participating.

Besides giving good formal concerts, the band members competed at a NISBOVA contest, marched in several parades, and participated in Pep Band and Stage Band at basketball games.

Band students had to be very devoted, since playing an instrument was such a time-consuming responsibility. As a reward for their fine efforts, the students took a trip, and played at a concert in the spring.

Servant and Master am I; servant of those dead, and Master of those living. Through my spirit immortals speak the message that makes the world weep and laugh, and wonder and worship — For I am the instrument of God. I am Music.

basic lettering, printing sketching, watercolor painting, pen and India ink, silk screening, and op-art. Art II covered metal, clay, and wood sculptures.

Art projects was designed to give the students full opportunity to do whatever inspired them. Art projects instilled independence in the individual artist and promoted non-conforming creativity.

The art department was also responsible for the beautiful scenery found at all of the plays and concerts during the year.

English courses vary

Providing opportunities for students to learn to read, speak, and write more effectively, Gavit's English department offered three programs of required four-year English and seven elective courses.

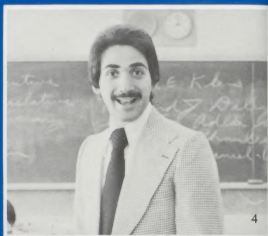

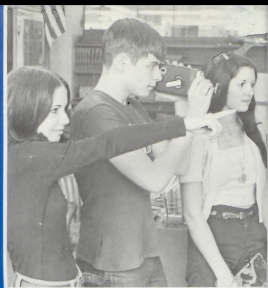

The regular English program provided a sound, workable background in vocabulary, grammar, and literature for students not planning to continue their formal education after high school. The college preparatory program gave college-bound students advanced instruction to build their vocabulary with weekly exercises, master grammarian skills, practice good composition techniques, and study literature in depth. The practical English program was designed to help students who have not adequately mastered language arts skills by detecting and correcting reading problems and reinforcing existing knowledge so as to expand the student's ability.

Perhaps the most beneficial preparation for college-bound students was the six-week reference mini-course that department head Mrs. Angela Penny taught. College prep students learned to do independent research by making descriptive reference cards for over fifty reference books. Although a very time-consuming project, this course has been acclaimed by students who benefitted from it in college.

A student could select any of the three English programs he felt would best benefit him. If his desires and interests changed, he was free to switch to another program the following year.

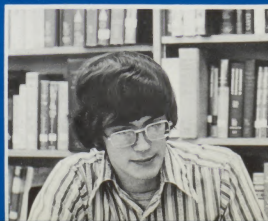

Gavit's two publications staffs from SCROLL and FUTURA made up two co-curricular English elective courses. Mr. Donald Koppen was the adviser for the two groups who learned the fundamentals of creative journalism. The SCROLL put out ten monthly newspapers under the direction of Ron Henry, who had attended a valuable two-week journalism seminar at Northwestern University last summer. Yearbook editor Joyce Pandak took lead of the vibrant 1975 FUTURA, "The Rhythm of Life," and six other staff members helped her teach new techniques that they had learned at an American Yearbook seminar at Quincy (Illinois) College last August.

IN MEMORIAM

Mr. Roland Uinkuri, an active and interested teacher at Gavit for over ten years, will not be forgotten by all who knew him as a teacher and friend. Uinkuri, who had in earlier years been in charge of Speech Club and National Forensics League at Gavit, taught English, drama, and speech. Later responsibilities included sponsor of the Drama Club, Usherettes, Mime Troupe, and International Thespian Society. As Dramatics Instructor, he staged many successful productions, which brought both humor and melodrama to the Gavit stage. His last production was "A Distant Bell," in May of 1974.

Electives cultivate student interest

Included in the English department were speech, developmental reading, and mass media. Newest of these three electives was the one-semester mass media class.

Now completing its second year, mass media studied mass communications including photography, advertising, newspaper journalism, and electronic media consisting of film, television and radio.

One major unit of the course was devoted to film study. The students were presented a short history of film as well as viewing and discussing films ranging from "The Great Train Robbery" to "Flash Gordon." After each movie the students analyzed and discussed each film's setting, dialogue, actors, and plot as film literature.

Projects included student-made films, a short research paper, and slide-sound presentations. Also unique in this class was the making of a news broadcast via the A.V. video-tape machine. Guests were invited to see a presentation of the best of these projects.

It was hoped that through the study of print media, students gained interest in joining school publication staffs.

Under the direction of Gavit's new drama coach, Mrs. Margarite Macey, the drama department offered many exciting opportunities for dramatists.

Drama and stagecraft classes learned all about the artistic and technical aspects of the theater. Students pantomimed and portrayed characters and studied theater history, stage technology, staging, vocal techniques, set construction, lighting, sound systems, business management, costumes, and properties.

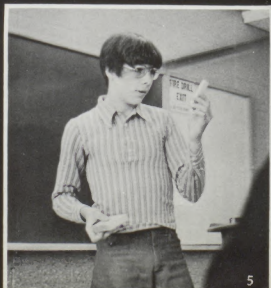

Besides teaching the two classes, Mrs. Macey directed plays and supervised usherettes, the Mime Troupe, and Thespians Honor Society. She was very enthusiastic about spreading interest in the theatrical arts, and gave free performances and did charity work, by organizing a group that did free puppet shows and other performances at elementary schools, hospitals, old people's homes and the Woodmar Mall. The year was a busy one, but added fun to the atmosphere at Gavit.

Another course offered to any student who wants to improve in reading ability is developmental reading. Participants are expected to increase skills noticeably.

Speech class covered such interesting areas as impromptu, formal, informative, and persuasive speaking to aid students in public speaking.

Lingual activities many

Two students who became teachers enhanced cultural activities of foreign language classes this year.

French and German culture was brought back to language classrooms by Joy Jankowski and Randy Van Vynckt, who studied two months in Europe with the I.U. Honors Program for Foreign Languages. Having lived with a foreign family and attended a foreign school with no English spoken those eight weeks, Joy and Randy were able to help Gavvit students better understand grammar and literature of France and Germany. Joy also taught aspects of historical and modern French culture, and Randy gave German students a better understanding of life in Deutschland.

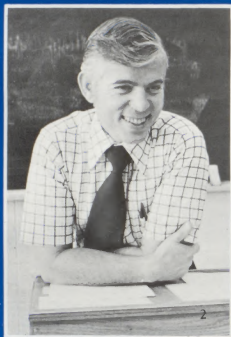

Several projects added to the foreign cultural refinement of language students. Spanish, French, and German Clubs all constructed Homecoming floats characteristic of each culture. Spanish and French students wrote and produced video-taped skits in the winter, and Mexico was the destination of many Spanish students during spring vacation. French students were true culture gourmets as they relished fine culinary delights at a French restaurant, feasted on French art at the Chicago Art Institute, and savored plans to visit the French-speaking province of Quebec, Canada.

Home ec classes mixed

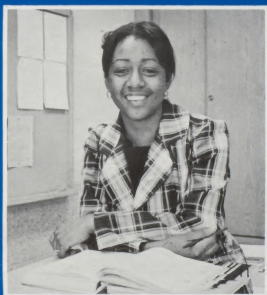

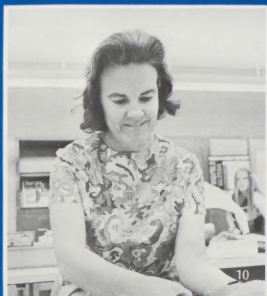

Mixed classes added a new ingredient to this year's foods class. Both boys and girls mixed their batter as well as their talents while preparing breakfast, lunch, and dinner.

Sew what? A line skirt, jumper, pleated skirt, and shirtwaist dress were just a few examples of what Clothing I and II seamstresses constructed. Clothing III and IV students were given a bit more freedom with patterns and fabrics; their projects included a formal dress and child's garment. While studying the redesigning and restyling of worn or outdated garments, Clothing V and VI classes had students making bathing suits and many types of lingerie.

Home management, family living, and home nursing, all one-semester courses, were devised to better students' skills in domestic management and care for family members.

Co-educational foods classes were enjoyable and beneficial because students could participate in real-life situations. Perhaps next year will bring us co-ed sewing, home nursing and family living as well.

Physical ed builds sound bodies

Gavit's physical education department complemented academics in providing a well-rounded education for Gladiators. P.E. programs were designed to help students develop a sound body so that they could perform better in scholastic areas.

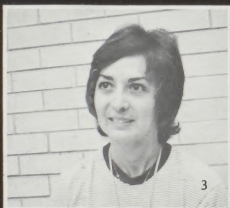

All freshmen participated in team and individual sports in their gym classes, besides doing jumping jacks, sit-ups, push-ups and other exercises. These activities taught students how to achieve physical fitness and develop athletic skills that make physical work-outs more enjoyable.

Miss Kelly and Mrs. Estep gave their gym students exposure to fifteen areas of sport. Girls practiced team work with soccer, field hockey, flag football, volleyball, basketball, and softball. They worked also to improve their skills in bowling, table tennis, folk and modern dancing, tumbling and gymnastics, swimming, badminton, tennis, and track and field. Girls of all grade levels participated in each of these sports, except soccer and dancing, under the auspices of G.A.A. intramurals.

Mr. A. Thompson, Mr. Wagner, and Mr. Life combined to instruct boys who played flag football, volleyball, basketball, and softball. Boys also competed individually in wrestling, weight training, handball, swimming, gymnastics, and track and field to improve their athletic skills. Handball was the only boys' sport offered intramurally.

Gavit's P.E. program was not for physical improvement alone, but also attempted to demonstrate good teamwork and sportmanship.

World covered in-depth

Updated with new textbooks this year, the social studies department continued educating students with geography, world history, U.S. history, government, and economics, furthering their knowledge of our world.

Geography, a freshman class required for general business examined the cultures of North, Central, and South America. Eastern hemisphere cultures such as Russia, Asia, Africa, and the Middle and Far East were discussed in Geography I. In both semesters economic and physical features of the areas were stressed.

All sophomores were required to have two semesters of world history. The first semester focused on prehistoric, ancient and medieval times. Civilizations from both East and West were included, stressing the development and contributions of each of the major civilizations. World History II dealt with everything from the beginning of modern history to the world we know today. Different types of government were discussed, placing emphasis on the background and the study of these concepts in comparison to today's world problems.

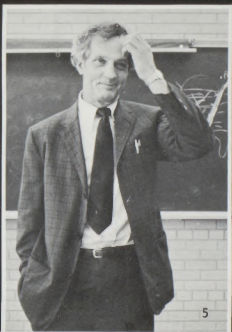

Juniors gained knowledge of economic, political, diplomatic and social history up until the late nineteenth century in U.S. History I. During the second semester the students concentrated on the twentieth century, learning how the U.S. became a great and powerful nation.

In government seniors learned about the executive, legislative, and judicial branches of the government, and the importance of each in today's society. Seniors also met with the challenge of economics. This course explained the basics of the business world, such as stocks and bonds, income tax, and the simple everyday transactions which are a part of everyone's future.

The social studies department exposed students to different and interesting cultures, besides giving them more insight into our culture.

9 Mr. Ronnie Whitcombe, Indiana State University B.A., M.A., history

Contemporary history, sociology, psychology, far eastern history, and history of the South were the five one-semester courses offered optionally in the social studies area.

Contemporary history involved research projects and library study about historical events that occurred after World War II. Students also discussed the sports, art, music, styles, and other issues of today.

Sociology had students making questionnaires to find out others' reactions to current issues such as alcoholism, drug abuse, and police brutality.

Psychology work included case histories of a bizarre human behavior, as students studied the innermost problems of the complex human mind.

One such case concerned a small boy, who became a mechanical human with no emotions, because of problems during his early childhood.

Far eastern history students learned about past and present problems of Asiatic countries such as China and Japan. Panda bears, ping pong matches; and Great Wall tours that have brought us closer to Asian countries were among diplomatic detente' discussed.

In history of the South, students learned the historical background of the southern States. Study began with the first southern settlements, including Jamestown and Williamsburg, and proceeded to present social changes in the South.

Social studies electives were designed to give interested students a better understanding of other people in relation to themselves, and of the world in general.

High School is a waste of time . . .

. . . unless you find a job that turns you on and makes good use of your education. Inland Steel wants only people who want to use everything they've learned in high school--and strongly desire to grow personally and in their chosen field.

Inland's future growth depends on the creativity and productivity of its people. If you want a really challenging opportunity to contribute--with the rewards and responsibilities that go with it--Inland wants to talk to you.

We need action-seeking graduates for opportunities in clerical . . . production . . . technical . . . and craft apprenticeship areas.

Think it over. If you have high aspirations and a good high school record, take time to find out about a career with us.

The Yearbook Staff of Donald E. Gavit High School would like to express its appreciation to all the merchants and businessmen who supported the 1975 Futura.

Although this is the end of the 1975 Futura it is the beginning of new ideas for the 1976 Futura. A lot of serious effort and time has been spent on production of this year's book. There have been happy moments, sad moments, as well as moments of frustration and anxiety. Being the editor of the 1975 Futura was an unforgettable experience for me as well as many others.

I have learned a lot about people — especially the members of my staff. Many times I didn't have enough confidence in them but they proved that I was wrong. Nobody can imagine the pride I felt during the first publications assembly. We have faced many problems, such as missing pictures, lost copy sheets, and early deadlines. We learned that the only way to solve a problem is to face it and be willing to work. All the late nights we have spent in Room 216 have really been worth it.

I would like to thank everyone for all the help they have given in making the '75 Futura a success. I would like to thank the Gavitt faculty and the custodial staff for all their patience in the entire staff. Our special thanks to Mr. Harry Dudzik, he was there when we needed him. Also Mrs. Pat Lindemann our American Yearbook representative who came to our aid and helped us a great deal. My great appreciation goes to my parents for letting me spend so much time in yearbook. I don't know where to begin in thanking the entire staff and Mr. Kopenec. Everyone worked so hard. I really don't know how they put up with me. An editor can't ask for a better staff and adviser.

I wish Kim Ganz and Diane Yokovich the best of luck with the 1976 Futura.

THANKS AGAIN EVERYONE!!!
Joyce Pandak, Editor-in-Chief

The 1975 FUTURA Staff consisted of three returning members and 21 eager to learn rookies. Sometimes heard over the hard work, was the laughter and fun of accomplishing deadlines: From the "PUB!" came such unique moments as:

*Here Pam, rip it. No don't

Pam-m-m, I meant rip out the carbon paper!

*5 down — 39 to go.

*Oh my song, shhh be quiet you guys. Hey wait a minute, that's not my song!

*15 down — 29 to go. We'll leave before 6:00 p.m.

*Joyce ... Panda Bear ... Puttums ... Chief Running Mouth ... Pandakski ... just plain Joyce.

*Here come the Big Macs — clear the table.

*20 down — 24 to go.

*Elaine, you dummy, you put the carbon in backwards!

*Go Wendy, Wendy! Wendy!!

Wendy!!! Would you get out of here!

*Hey, do my antennas look alright?

*Elaine and Cathy, get in here.

You're already 10 minutes late!

*Nimble fingers ... Ruthie ... Bed-knobs ... chump ... Wonder Woman Wendy.

*40 down — 4 to go. We'll be home by 9:00 p.m.

*I think we might make it home by 10:30 p.m.

*We're finished! Finally!!!
